

OZONE COLUMN DENSITY USING FOURIER SPECTROSCOPY

A.A. Veles(1), A.V. Shavrina(1), M.G. Sosonkin(1)

(1)Main Astronomical Observatory of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine
(veles@mao.kiev.ua)

The analysis of atmospheric spectra was carried out using MODTRAN3 code. Fitting of model and observed spectra was accounting variable water absorption and other molecules. The estimates of ozone column density are agreed well with satellite measurements.